The focus of healthcare for women and infants over the next century depends on the quality of the data collected by those who fill out the birth certificates.” — W. Callaghan MD, CDC